SNEC Board of Directors

SNEC Milestones & Momentum

Since our last newsletter was published in the Spring of 2024, our Chapter leadership has been working hard to align the SNEC-PMI chapter with the current needs of members. Here are some highlights of our recent achievements and some new opportunities available to you as a chapter member.

- Strategic Planning Generates Momentum: Thirty-four SNEC-PMI members, leaders, and board members spent six hours at the University of Hartford generating and discussing how our chapter can add value to our members...then followed it up with more conversation at The Republic Gastropub in Bloomfield. Lots of exercises, great feedback, and fun. Huge thanks to everyone who joined us! See the Strategic Planning article on page 10. Fresh updates will be provided in the next Chapter newsletter.
- New Corporate Outreach Committee Formed: Based on the results from last year's strategic planning session, a new committee was formed to focus on outreach to corporations. We have nine dedicated volunteers pursuing some great ideas, but we could use more help. Connect with the Corporate Outreach Committee to volunteer via email at: corporate.outreach@snecc-pmi.org.
- New Agilist Outreach Committee Formed: Based on the results from last year's strategic planning session, a new committee was formed to focus on outreach to Agilists. We have 11 dedicated volunteers pursuing multiple initiatives. Our Agile article on page 7 has more details.
- More In-Person Networking Events Added: Based on the results from last year's strategic planning session, a new committee was formed to bring back in-person networking opportunities. Our volunteers have planned and executed two events so far, with two more to come by the end of the year! See the events list on page 13 for upcoming opportunities.
- Marketing Committee Revives Newsletter: The SNEC-PMI Marketing team has been reinvigorated with new members and leadership! They have revived this newsletter and have been conducting myriad marketing activities, with some new ones coming! Our active committee welcomes new volunteers! Please connect with us via email at: marketing@snecc-pmi.org.

- Bank Account Transition Complete: The SNEC-PMI Finance committee has officially transitioned our banking to Bank of America, increasing our flexibility and stabilizing services.
- Chapter Representatives Attend PMI Regional Leadership meeting: Greg Gregonis (SNEC-PMI Vice President) and Deborah Ketai (SNEC-PMI Board member over Programs) spent three days in Ottawa, Canada, with other PMI chapter leaders from the Northeast and North Central U.S., as well as Canada. They learned about upcoming Global PMI initiatives, absorbed leadership training, and swapped best practices with their peers.
- BOD Evolves in Lieu of Elections: With six open seats on the board and only five candidates, we did not need a membership vote this year. We have a great set of returning and new board members officially starting in 2026. Read their bios on page 4.
- Colleges are Excited by Our Higher Education Programs Committee: This small but mighty group has provided or is planning programs and speakers for the University of Hartford, CCSU, the University of New Haven, UConn, Western New England University, and Quinnipiac University. Over 50 SNEC members have signed up with standing offers to speak to and/or network with students! But with more requests pending from SCSU, Fairfield University, Post University, Sacred Heart University, and Mitchell College, among other schools, we need more committee volunteers to establish relationships and plan events. Interested in guiding the next generation of Project Managers? Connect with the Committee via email at: education@sneq-pmi.org.
- Students Streaming SNEC: Chris Zack, Visiting Instructor of Operations and Project Management at the University of Hartford's Barney School of Business, now streams many of our webinars to his classes!
- AI is a Major Focus: Our six programs committees continue to meet the heavy demand for AI-focused learning by presenting webinars, in-person panel discussions, and university events that cover everything from AI-assisted PM tools, to planning and implementing AI development projects, to PMI's own AI tool, PMI Infinity. Check the calendar on the chapter website for upcoming AI-related opportunities.
- New Retiree Committee Formed: We're thrilled to announce the launch of a brand-new initiative designed just for our retiree community! This portfolio will create space for retired professionals to connect, share their incredible experiences, and continue gaining value from their involvement with SNEC-PMI. Whether it's mentoring, networking, or simply staying engaged with the chapter, there's more to come—and we can't wait to share it with you! Interested in learning more? Connect with the Membership Committee via email at: membership@sneq-pmi.org.
- Education Committee Expands Leadership: The SNEC-PMI Education team has been reinvigorated with new members and leadership! We now have two additional fierce leaders to carry out the mission of the portfolio.
- New Member Orientation (NEMO): New Members, New Energy! On July 24th, we welcomed our newest SNEC-PMI members at NeMO—our New Member Orientation! It was an evening of connection, learning, and lively networking (yes, with wings!). Members met chapter leaders, explored PMI benefits, and discovered how to make the most of their membership. We're excited to have you with us—your journey starts now! Read more about NEMO on page 9.

- Successful and Engaging Annual meeting: In May, 115 members gathered to network and hear about the state of our chapter. Feedback was excellent, so be sure to join us for next year's event!
- Find Opportunities on our Volunteer Engagement Platform (VEP): This platform connects you with volunteer opportunities tailored to your professional goals. Whether you're looking to grow your skills, expand your network, or give back, VEP helps you find the perfect fit. And here's the best part: at every SNEC-PMI event, we'll be there to help you identify the opportunity that's right for you. You'll need to log into the pmi.org website to use the VEP. If you are not already a PMI member and you are interested in volunteering, contact us at membership@sneec-pmi.org. Start exploring!

Meet the New SNEC Board of Directors!

	Darwyn Azzinaro President Many prior terms – 2nd Year of Current Term Darwyn Azzinaro continues as our Chapter President. He has been volunteering with SNEC-PMI on and off for the last 20 years and has held many of the leadership positions, including President and CFO. Darwyn has also volunteered with PMI to help develop and update two global standards. His career experience is diverse, including multiple startups and consulting companies. Darwyn is currently SVP, EPMO Leader at Liberty Bank.
	Greg Gregonis Vice President 1st Term – 3rd Year of Current Term Greg Gregonis joins us for his third year on the Board and is our Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Greg is a long-time volunteer for SNEC-PMI. Prior to serving on the Board, Greg helped to build up the Programs portfolio. Greg has used project management as the conduit for accomplishing business goals and change. As a result, he established a project and process management freelance LLC called Transition2Done. Greg is an adjunct professor at Western New England University. He has been successfully leading and directing projects and project work for more than 30 years. His training and experience in management, industrial engineering, project management, and Lean Six Sigma has provided the knowledge and experience to hold senior management roles and to work with teams to implement a diverse portfolio of projects and initiatives. Greg’s vision is to provide project management leadership solutions that support teams to successfully transition their desired changes to done.
	Jaidaa Tahoun Corporate Secretary 1st Term – 1st Year of Current Term Jaidaa Tahoun is serving her first year and first term as the chapter’s Corporate Secretary. Outside of her chapter involvement, Jaidaa is a Certified Scrum Master and MIS professional with experience as an Enterprise Project Manager. She previously served as secretary of the Information Systems Club and is active with PMI Agilist. Jaidaa also volunteers with the Outreach Committee and is passionate about leadership, innovation, and community impact.
	Rohit Sarde Treasurer & CFO 1st Term – 1st Year of Current Term Rohit Sarde is serving his first year and first term as the chapter’s CFO and Treasurer. He is a finance specialist at CIANBRO and has eight years of construction industry experience in project controls for multi-billion-dollar infrastructure projects, including the JFK Airport Redevelopment and the Walk Bridge Replacement Project in Norwalk, CT. Rohit previously served as the VP of the Finance Portfolio for SNEC-PMI. His interests are fiscal strategy, governance, and member engagement. Rohit is PMP-certified and is pursuing an MBA in Finance starting in January 2026. He is dedicated to fostering collaboration, transparency, and sustainable project governance.
	Allan Ram Marketing & Operations 1st Term – 1st Year of Current Term Allan Ram is serving his first year and first term as the chapter’s Marketing and Operations Director. Prior to becoming a board member, Allan managed the facilities component of the last two conferences. He also facilitated the Chapter’s 2024 and 2025 Strategic Planning sessions. Allan currently manages strategic financial projects at Liberty Bank. Previously, he has worked at Anthem, Alstom, Deloitte Consulting, and Wesleyan University.

Meet the New SNEC Board of Directors!

	Mona Heredia Membership & Volunteers 2nd Term – 1st Year of Current Term Mona Heredia is continuing in her role as Director of Membership and Volunteers. A passionate leader with 20+ years in healthcare and insurance, Mona co-led the last two SNEC conferences as Lead Marketing Chair. She is currently a Senior Program Director at Hartford HealthCare, where she developed HHC’s internal PM and Change Management certifications and created a mentoring program. She champions intentional leadership through mentoring and community engagement. During her second term, she hopes to continue building member value and connection by actively promoting the rich opportunities available through the SNEC Chapter. Fun fact about Mona: She is a huge soccer fan—especially passionate about the Premier League and the World Cup. As for her favorite futbol teams... she keeps it a secret to help maintain family peace!
	Debora Ketai Programs 1st Term – 2nd Year of Current Term Deborah Ketai is serving her second year on the board as the Programs Portfolio lead, overseeing six committees: Four produce our webinars; one hosts in-person networking events; and one establishes relationships and hosts events with regional colleges and universities. This year, Deborah also drove the planning for the chapter's annual strategic planning meeting. Fun fact: Outside of SNEC, Deborah is a published poet.
	Raphael Deh-Atheba Education 1st Term – 2nd Year of Current Term Raphael Deh-Atheba brings an extensive domestic and international background in the nonprofit sector, especially in the areas of programming and curriculum development. Under Raphael’s leadership as Assistant Vice President, SNEC-PMI has re-established its presence in the Springfield, Massachusetts area. Raphael also extended SNEC-PMI’s outreach to Western New England University through a successful online event that took place in 2024. Raphael’s first year in charge of the Education and Special Events portfolio is dedicated to strengthening current partnerships to offer quality education and events programs to our members.

SNEC Committees Cook Up Fresh Events for Fall

by Deborah Ketai, PMP, PMI-RMP

Question: What do these titles have in common?

- The Story Factor: How Project Managers Influence Without Authority
- Can Agile Help Save The Planet?
- Career Pathways for Project Professionals

Answer: They're just a few of the upcoming events on tap for the fall from the SNEC Programs portfolio.

Our six (6!) committees have been busy cooking up opportunities for you to meet each other, learn best practices, and earn PDUs.

This year, two new committees have joined the four “satellites” (the webinar-producing committees that have been around for years).

- In-Person Networking Events hosted its first event in Meriden back in June and is planning three more around the region through the end of the year.
- Higher Ed Outreach builds relationships with regional colleges and universities that offer project management or PM-adjacent courses. We maintain a roster of members who have a passion for guiding students—and earning PDUs for volunteering—whether by participating in a panel discussion, speaking to a class, or helping students build their professional networks.

Join us!

- We're always adding new events. Watch for the Monday morning emails (make sure they aren't going to your junk folder), or keep an eye out through the SNEC Web site.
- To let us know about topics that interest you, good places to hold live events, or presentations you'd like to give, email deborah.ketai@sneec-pmi.org.
- Volunteer for one of our committees! Deborah Ketai can walk you through the opportunities and the process.

We hope to see you soon!

"Great time at the Southern New England Chapter - PMI event last night.
So awesome to be back IN PERSON!!" ~ Rocco SantoPietro on LinkedIn

New Committee Alert: SNEC Agilist Outreach Committee

by Kayleigh Marchetti, PMP

The SNEC-PMI Agilist Outreach Committee is off and running, and we're here to expand the ways SNEC-PMI supports members who work in Agile or hybrid environments.

Led by President Darwyn Azzinaro and Vice President Greg Gregonis, this committee is focused on delivering real value to practitioners who blend Agile and traditional project management approaches.

Our mission is simple: to promote learning, connection, and innovation within the Agile community. We believe Agile and Waterfall can work in unison, and we're dedicated to helping our members make the most of both.

What's Ahead for 2025:

- A State of Agile Summary report
- A compilation of the Foundational Beliefs of Agile
- New partnership opportunities with Agile Hartford
- Leveraging the PMI–Agile Alliance merger
- Exploring AI trends in Agile

Our goal is to create more learning, mentoring, and networking opportunities for members.

If you're passionate about Agile or hybrid project management, we encourage you to get involved as we build this next evolution of the SNEC community. You can contact us via email at: agilist.outreach@sneec-pmi.org.

Spotlight on Program Volunteers

by Deborah Ketai, PMP, PMI-RMP

SNEC has many dedicated volunteers—members just like you!—who channel their enthusiasm and PM talents into producing webinars, in-person networking events, and programs at local colleges and universities.

In this issue, we're featuring two of our AVPs.

Rick Caudill heads up one of our four “satellites” (the committees that plan and host online programs). Named for the geographic area where it originated, the Springfield satellite typically schedules virtual meetings on the first or second Tuesday night of the month, offering topics like artificial intelligence and influencing without authority.

In his work life, Rick is a technical project manager in the defense and government contracting industry. He manages large-scale IT projects, leads cybersecurity initiatives, and oversees network administration in both federal and Department of Defense environments.

He says, “I volunteer with SNEC PMI to give back to the project management community and to stay connected with like-minded professionals. Through hosting monthly events, I've had the opportunity to learn from others, share my own experiences, and expand my network of those who are blazing the trails in the forefront of project management.”

Fun fact: Rick co-founded a craft beer and wine shop and ran it for ten years.

Like Rick, Pratik Dahule volunteers “to give back to the profession while enhancing my leadership, project management, and collaboration skills.”

A business project manager in the utilities and energy industry, Pratik leads a new but quickly growing committee that produces in-person networking meetings for SNEC. His intrepid volunteers have already held two events and will hold two more before the end of the year. Keep an eye on your inbox and the SNEC Event Calendar for further details!

In August, Pratik debuted as a speaker, presenting a well-attended webinar on The Future of Project Management—Harnessing AI for Strategic Impact.

Fun fact: He runs marathons in his spare time.

Here's another fun fact: You, too, can join one of our six programs committees! It's easy: Simply apply through PMI's Volunteer Engagement Platform using this QR code or email deborah.ketai@sneccpmi.org.

New Member Orientation Continues

by Hector Munoz and Chris Zack, PMP, PMI-ACP, DASM

On July 24, 2025, the Membership Committee hosted a New Member Orientation (NeMo) at historic J. Timothy's Taverne in Plainville, CT. The evening brought together new members, volunteers, and chapter leaders for an engaging session filled with learning, networking, and lively conversation.

Chris Zack, Vice President of Membership, delivered an engaging presentation that introduced attendees to the spectrum of resources available through PMI and the SNEC. From educational programs and certification pathways to mentorship opportunities and upcoming chapter events, Chris' overview helped members understand how to make the most of their PMI journey.

Participants especially valued the information provided and expressed interest in more in-person networking events, job fairs, and roundtable discussions to help foster peer learning and professional growth.

Overall, the July NeMo was informative, enjoyable, and served as a great way to welcome new members into the SNEC-PMI community. If you are a new member and missed this session, we encourage you to join us at the next NeMo to learn, connect, and make the most of your membership.

Thank you to everyone who attended and contributed to the success of this event. We look forward to seeing you at future SNEC-PMI events!

Bagels, Pizza, & Big Ideas: SNEC's Strategy Saturday

by Deborah Ketai, PMP, PMI-RMP

Who would dedicate an entire October Saturday to strategic planning for our chapter?

Thirty-four SNEC members, that's who!

These highly motivated folks gathered at the University of Hartford's Barney School of Business, harnessing their collective brainpower to figure out how we can better serve our constituents.

The theme of the meeting was Dream Big... Follow Through... for Our Members.

Dream Big: Attendees brainstormed how to identify and meet the needs of eight personas, or stakeholder groups, listed below. Although individuals may fall into more than one category, each persona has distinct characteristics and pain points.

- Seasoned Project Professionals
- Early Career / Unofficial PMs
- IT Professionals (including Agilists)
- Students
- Retirees
- Project Professionals in Transition
- Corporate / Senior Leaders
- Institutions of Higher Education

Between last year's strategic planning meeting and this one, we've identified a total of over 160 "gaps"—ways in which our chapter could better serve its stakeholders.

Follow Through: Over the past year, the Board restructured its portfolios and committees to better support work identified at the 2024 meeting. In the next month, they'll discuss and rank the gaps, considering the time and volunteer effort needed for implementation, and then assign the top ones to the portfolios and committees, reaching out for additional volunteers to support the work.

For Our Members: If you missed the meeting, it's not too late to get in on the excitement! Watch this newsletter, emails, and meetings for progress reports and calls for volunteers.

Together, let's make this the best possible chapter for its members and the southern New England community.

Rohit Sarde records key points as a breakout group brainstorms how SNEC could fulfill the needs of early career and unofficial PMs.

L to R: Rania Elsheikh, Mona Heredia, Priya Santhanam, Sara Nasshan, and Jaidaa Tahoun gather around one of the high-tops to keep the conversation going after the meeting.

SNEC Members Share Expertise and Inspire Future Project Leaders

by Chris Zack, PMP, PMI-ACP, DASM

SNEC-PMI members recently brought their leadership and mentoring spirit to the University of Hartford's Barney School of Business, where they participated in a dynamic “speed coaching” event designed to connect project management professionals with students exploring career paths.

More than twenty SNEC-PMI volunteers spent the evening guiding one-on-one conversations with students eager to learn about the realities of project management across industries. Each round offered our members the chance to share stories from the field, offer career insights, and demonstrate the value of PMI's professional community in action.

For many, it was an opportunity to pay it forward—to help the next generation of project professionals build confidence and clarity about their future. And for our chapter, it was another example of how mentorship deepens engagement, strengthens our profession, and builds lasting connections beyond the workplace.

Special thanks go to the University of Hartford's Barney School of Business and the SNEC-PMI Networking committee for coordinating the event, and to all the SNEC-PMI mentors who generously volunteered their time and expertise.

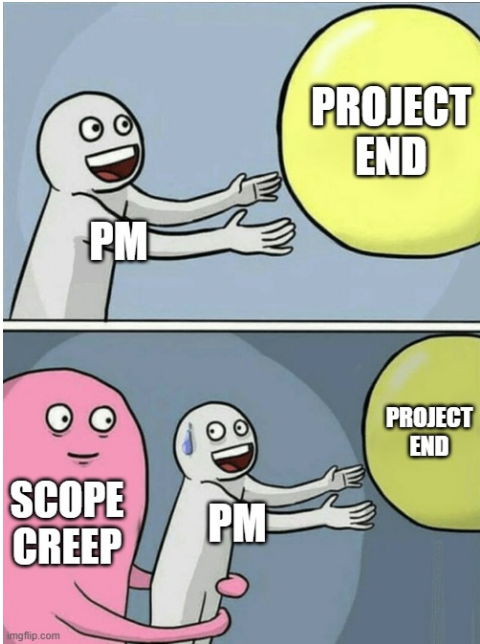

Stay tuned for future opportunities to share your knowledge and make an impact—because every conversation can spark a career.

Make an impact. Volunteer with PMI.

For over 50 years, our incredible volunteer community has been an integral part of our success as the leading project management association. Embodying the spirit of "Together We Can," our global volunteers make a critical impact.
